

Trail Blazers

Description:

The programme is designed to bring participants out. Out of the box... out of their shell... out of their comfort zone... to create leaders and team members who can overcome challenges with the overarching intention of increasing self-esteem and confidence.

There are four core activities namely:

- Orienteering – Navigation of a route in groups in a remote and unfamiliar environment
- Obstacle course – Physical problem solving
- Catch-and-release fishing – For a chance to get a picture with the illusive tiger fish
- Baobab climbing – With a time trial twist

Aside from these there is also a range of interactive lessons that take place, focused on leadership and team work. The intention of this programme is to groom the participants for their role as leaders within their school. Some schools choose to use this camp as a selection process for their prefects and house captains.
